This Sunday at CRBC ...

When you think about wisdom, what is the foundation that wisdom is built upon? This Sunday, CRBC Pastor Danny Estave shares King Solomon's findings: the foundation for true wisdom is the knowledge of God. Our knowledge of God is the core, shaping influence on our lives.

Join us at 11AM this Sunday at CRBC (also on YouTube).

Celebrating the Blessing of Our Earthly and Heavenly Father

This Sunday is a special day to celebrate our earthly fathers by honoring fatherhood, celebrating paternal bonds, and the influence of fathers in society. Father's Day was first proposed by Sonora Smart Dodd of Spokane, Washington in 1909, to establish an equivalent to Mother's Day. Sonora was one of six children who was raised by her father following the passing of her mother. This day was first celebrated on June 19, 1910, but was not named a national holiday until President Richard Nixon signed it into law in 1972. This tradition is also celebrated in over 111 countries around the world.

Our earthly fathers are called in a special way to reflect God's unconditional love and forgiveness. Similar to the way our heavenly Father loves and cares for us, our earthly fathers have an irreplaceable role to love, protect, provide, and to be involved in their child's development. Fathers should be good role models and help navigate life's challenges when their children fall. However, even the best dads fall short of perfection and make poor decisions.

As our Creator and Sustainer of life, we also give praises and adoration to our Father God, who loves, cares, and protects us, yearning to be involved in our daily lives. He is the only perfect Father we will ever know. Our Father God sacrificed His only Son, Jesus Christ, so we might be saved through faith in Him. This gospel also provides a life lesson for our earthly fathers, pointing to the many sacrifices they will make for their children as well.

I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth - 3 John 1:4

Our Father God lovingly provides us with a perfect example of the vocation of fatherhood. May we always be grateful for our earthly fathers, by birth or adoption, who love and support their children through this life, and for our Father God, who will always teach justly and grant us boundless mercy. It's a privilege to call Him "Father" and it shows a level of intimacy with Him that rivals any relationship we have with our earthly parents.

Anonymous Father's Day Quotes & Sayings
