This Sunday at CRBC ...

As a Christian, do you sometimes feel absolutely sincere in your faith, and other times, like a total hypocrite, a real life Dr. Jekyll & Mr. Hyde? In Romans chapter 7, Paul writes about the struggle that Christians have between their new self and their old, sinful flesh. This Sunday, CRBC Pastor Danny Estave shares that The Struggle Is Real.

Halloween Brought Many Treats

In case you have not heard, the CRBC Trunk-or-Treat held Monday night was a big success! Some of our church family were barley recognizable, which added to the fun and excitement. We were visited by little ghosts & goblins as well as some mysterious creatures that were excited, polite, and appreciative. Several parents let us know how thankful they were for us to host this event as they knew CRBC was a safe place for their children to enjoy this special, spooky night.

All that said, the evening was so much more than costumes and candy. We had the privilege of witnessing our Afghan family participating in their first Halloween. They were so excited to be a part of the festivities, and they are already looking forward to next year. We also took this opportunity to invite people to come back and visit the church. The most touching moment came when a mother asked us for prayer for her daughter, who was there in a wheelchair due to a foot injury. One of our members said, "Let's pray right now!" It was a prayer that showed this mother we cared about her daughter, and that we firmly believed in the power of prayer at any time and at any place.

Thank you to everyone who participated in this event with your prayers, donations, and/or participation. Special thanks to Pastor Danny & Courtnie, who organized this neighborhood outreach event. Seeds have been planted; now is the time to water them and to ask God to grow them for His glory.

The Numbers from Last Sunday
